DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-20 in the reply filed on 3 Sept. 2008 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there is no soluble layer covering the openings in the main layer. This is not found persuasive because the tape that covers the openings is made of soluble components (see Example 1).

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

It does not identify the foreign application for patent or inventor's certificate on which priority is claimed pursuant to 37 CFR 1.55, and any foreign application having a filing date before that of the application on which priority is claimed, by specifying the application number, country, day, month and year of its filing.

A different PCT number is given in the oath than is associated with the 371 papers.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Isakson et al. (U.S. 4,640,838).

Isakson teaches a vent opening that is covered by a tape that has a soluble backing (Figure 4, Example 1). The instant invention claims variation in the thickness of the soluble layer and variation in barrier and soluble materials. Such variation is taken as being within the ordinary skill of the art depending on the strength of the seal desired and the desired opening temperatures and pressures.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William P. Watkins III whose telephone number is 571-272-1503.
